WEB DEVELOPER/FULLSTACK

PROFILE

Front-End Developer with Back-End Experience looking to transition into a permanent position after doing freelance for so long. With hands-on experience dealing with clients, I understand the importance of excellent customer service—it's been a key part of my freelance journey. Currently studying cybersecurity, I'm eager to join a company that can help me grow while making the most of my skills. I'm not afraid to take on responsibilities, learn new programming languages, or put in the extra effort/hours to deliver great results. Outside of coding, I enjoy fishing, camping, spending time with my cats, tackling DIY projects (I have a YouTube channel), cooking, and gaming. If this sounds like someone you'd like on your team, feel free to reach out
